FOR HE IS RISEN.

In the end of the Sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came many angels and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.
 And, behold, there was a great earthquake; for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door and sat upon it.
 His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow. And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.
 And the angel answered and said unto the women, "Fear not ye; for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here; for He is risen, as He said." Matt. 28:1-6.

WAVELAND SEA WALL.

Property owners and others in Waveland more particularly will learn with more than ordinary interest of the meeting held this week in Bay St. Louis of the committee in charge, officially appointed by Governor Whitfield, for the immediate building of the sea wall along the riparian front of that place. The slogan of the meeting seemed to be "A sea wall from Bayou Cadde to Bayou Ladose," a most significant one, indeed.

A sea wall and boulevard for Waveland has been the fondest hope for Waveland and Bay St. Louis for the longest. But, like all great things, such bodies move slowly. It was evident, from recent development, that considerable legislation and other official attention was necessary before the project could be best done and to mutual advantage of all concerned. Now that we have gone through that process and evolved to a more definite and satisfactory stage of progress, it is apparent the wall is going to be built at the earliest possible moment.

In this city one night during the week a meeting was held and the first steps necessary for an early and definite consummation was launched. It was an auspicious meeting, surely, since it means so much for Waveland and Bay St. Louis as well.

The best wall possible will be built and the cost to be defrayed in a manner no one will feel. The gasoline tax collected by the State and then distributed for highway and highway protection, as designed by the Legislature, will absorb the cost and no property holder will be burdened heavily, as is too often the case.

President Weston and other members of the Board of Supervisors have long cherished the idea of building the sea wall. It was given out that after the building of the Bay St. Louis bridge had been disposed of then the Waveland sea wall. This now has come to pass and there is much reason for jubilation. Chairman Engman and other members of the road protection committee are equal to the task and have set to work in a manner that leaves no doubt their work will be accomplished in the earliest possible time and to the best advantage of all concerned.

True, we have waited long for certain improvements that we have had the temerity even to privately cherish, thinking possibly these were too good to be true, but nevertheless things hoped for are coming to pass, and are noted with more than ordinary satisfaction.

A BURIAL AT SEA.

While his printing presses whirled and throbbed in more than a score of daily newspaper offices, reeling off miles and miles of newsprint, the body of a great publisher was quietly dropped over the side of the yacht Ohio and found its resting place at the bottom of the Atlantic a few days ago.

Edward W. Scripps, founder of the Scripps-Howard chain of newspapers and allied enterprises, had passed from life's stage.

Far from the Illinois prairie farm where he was born in 1854, his mortal remains were disposed of as he had wished. Instructions delivered to the captain of his yacht and filed in his Cincinnati office three years ago directed that he should be buried wherever he might be, without consultation with his family or business associates.

Since retiring from the active management of his vast properties in 1920, Mr. Scripps passed his last years in cruising the seven seas. He died suddenly of apoplexy on board his vessel, anchored in Monrovia Bay, on the African coast. The yacht steamed out to sea for two hours, then stopped while the flag-draped body, without coffin, was consigned to the deep, with a brief burial service read by the captain.

From the humblest beginners Edward W. Scripps rose to the highest position of power and influence in the publishing world. But though he became a multi-millionaire, his heart was always with the common people, for whom his sympathies were as broad and deep as the sea which is his sepulcher.

AMERICANS FIRST.

In connection with the problem of alien criminals, the proposal has been made that all foreigners convicted and sentenced to one year or more in prison shall be deported after they have served their sentences.

The plan has been discussed recently by the House committee on immigration, and it is hoped by this means to ultimately relieve the congestion in federal and State penitentiaries.

One member of the committee jokingly pleaded for the adoption of the deportation plan on patriotic grounds, saying: "We have got to save American prisons for Americans. We can't afford to have aliens crowding our people out of their own jails."

Cabinet officials in Russia receive $23 a week, while minor officials are paid as little as $5 a week.

MISSISSIPPI HIGHWAYS.

The report of State Auditor George Key states that the gasoline tax for the past year amounted to $2,202,714 and that the last month recorded, that of December, showed sales of $249,655. This would indicate that the coming year will show a very considerable increase over these figures. He estimates that three million dollars will be received in 1926, even if there is no increase in the gasoline tax. There are now about two hundred and twenty-five thousand cars registered in the State, and this number is rapidly increasing. There is also an increase in gasoline consuming farm machinery and stationary engines. This tax is divided between the State and the counties equally. The highway commission urges that the whole amount of this tax be turned over to the State and that the commission be given charge of principal highways and also assume the duties of the various counties in connection with road building purposes. This is not likely to be done, as the counties are not likely to be able to do the work. Supervisors everywhere are protesting against any diversion of the 50 per cent which comes back to the county. Should the addition of 2 cents more be added to the gasoline tax and 6 cents to oil, there would be a revenue of something like five million dollars for roads. Economically and efficiently administered, this amount would build something like two hundred miles of hard surfaced road each year, and with the other resources for road purposes would go far toward maintaining the existing highways—Greenville Democrat.

INTERESTING ADVERTISING RATES.

An article in the current issue of popular finance gives an interesting insight into the fabulous sums received via the advertising department of various magazines.

Good Housekeeping charges $2,500 for a page in one color, one insertion; the advertising revenue from a recent issue totaled $411,000.

The Woman's Home Companion charges $6,800 a page for its advertising space. A single number has netted $273,000.

The Ladies Home Journal receives $6,000 a page for its advertising in one color only. The April issue figured up $336,000.

A page in the Saturday Evening Post sells for $3,000. The average front page of the issue of March 24 was $960,000.

The twelve magazines analyzed in popular finance article, including the one mentioned here, represents a total circulation of 17,500,000 copies per issue. Their total advertising revenues were $68,245,000.

BE SUPERIOR TO RESENTMENT.

The ways of a strong man are very difficult to fathom. That's why he is big.

It's the little dog that barks and snaps and irritates. The big man smiles under the lash of criticism, insult and calumny. He sees far below the surface of things. His feelings are with and for the big stakes—with the good of the largest number, perhaps of nations, in view.

He who understands does not resent. Resentment is the play of little minds.

Before the insults of Pilate, Jesus said, not a word, so that all Pilate could say for argument or explanation was this: "Behold the man!"

Instead of showing resentment at an imagined wrong, or even if it is real one, try the procedure of not minding and go on about your work. Immediately you will have risen in stature and noble bearing.

When you are tempted to hurt another just remember this: there are hurts enough in this world already. Resentment always harms. It leaves a scar. It cools the heart and puts a premium upon the royalty of friendship which should always be a thing of sweetness and freedom.

We pay for our losses as well as for our gains. But when we gain in respect and confidence from our gifts to others, we leave no regrets behind.

Be superior to resentment. (Copyright 1926 by George Matthew Adams.)

HANCOCK COUNTY'S SHARE SCHOOL FUNDS.

As their share of the State funds for educable children, exclusive of separate school districts, Harrison, Stone, Hancock and Jackson counties will receive a total of $21,193.26. The rest will be distributed in the fall. Tabulation shows 11,425 educable children in the four counties, Harrison having 3,591, Hancock 2,881, Jackson 2,645 and Stone 2,608. Of the total amount, Harrison will receive $6,475.80, Hancock $5,344.25, Jackson $4,720.97 and Stone $4,652.24. The appropriation to the Board of each educable child in Mississippi is $2.78.

GETS QUICK HELP FOR LUMBAGO.

Back at work three days after simple home treatment!

"Give me relief! Stop this agony!"—that's all you can stop when you're suffering with any acute pain.

And you can get relief—quickly and completely—with a very simple home treatment.

C. L. in bed with lumbago, writes C. L. Normandy of St. Paul, Minnesota. "A friend told me about Sloan's Liniment, and after using it one day, I was able to walk around the house. After three days I was able to go to work, and now I'm as well as ever."

The reason that Sloan's Liniment gives such remarkable relief is that it gets right at the cause of the pain. It stimulates the circulation throughout the place where the pain is, and clears out the germs that are causing it.

Right away you feel relief. The pain stops, and soon you are fit as ever. Get a bottle today and have it on hand. All druggists—35 cents.
